

CONVENTION INDORSES WILSON, SHIVELY AND REP. H. A. BARNHART

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY DISTRICT CONVENTION MONDAY FAVORS THE REELECTION OF SOUTH BEND AND ROCHESTER MEN TO SENATE AND HOUSE—HIGHLY COMMEND PRESIDENT.

After years of agitation for governmental reforms which should restore the individual to his rightful position as the unit of our national life, give him a fair field in which to labor, open to him the door of opportunity, and inspire in him hope and self-confidence, national public sentiment crystallized in the nomination and triumphant election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency of the United States.

Prior to his election, his scholarship, his determined fight as president of Princeton university for the true American spirit in the student body of that institution, and his heroic administration as governor of trust-ridden New Jersey, were pledges to the statesmanship and zeal required to meet the extraordinary demands upon the next chief executive of this country. Now, after less than a year in the country's service, the whole nation recognizes in Woodrow Wilson a statesman of the highest order, lofty in ideal, effective in action, and endowed with the ability and courage to lead the work of the regeneration of our national political life, to which the whole people aspires and to which he and his party are pledged. Within these few months, Woodrow Wilson and the democratic congress have revised the tariff, and revised it downward in complete discharge of its covinants with the American people. The present administration has also already given the country a currency and banking law—the demand of a generation past, but which has heretofore been baffled and denied through the influence of powerful financial alliances—both the tariff and the currency laws receiving general public approval. To approve those measures is to approve the administration of the men who gave us these measures, and to Pres. Wilson is due the meed of unstinted praise for their enactment. We recognize in him a masterful leader of men, endowed with the mentality to discern our national needs, and the strength of purpose to marshal the forces necessary to meet those needs. To him the country is indebted for the healthy readjustment of our national life now going forward and the "constitution of peace" which is now at hand, and we hereby, in these and all his other policies, most unqualifiedly commend and endorse his administration.

It is a source of gratification and pride that this district and this state have in the United States senate one of its citizens who has been zealous in advancing the cause of popular government along the lines now followed by the national administration. Benjamin F. Shively is essentially a man of the people. He has always fought for equal opportunity; he has always battled against special privilege. As a member of the present finance committee of the United States senate he has brought to the task of that body his great mastery of the complexities of the tariff question, and labored assiduously and effectively to perfect the new tariff act. We most heartily endorse the record and distinguished services of Benjamin F. Shively and most earnestly and unreservedly endorse and commend him to the democracy of Indiana for re-nomination and reelection as his own successor in the United States senate.

The democracy of the Thirteenth district rejoice over the auspicious enactment of highly important legislation bearing upon the economic and financial interests of the country at a special session of congress of unusual duration and also over the successful adjustment of difference of opinion, inevitable and unescapable in a body of overwhelming party preponderance. These adjustments required the cultivation of a spirit of conciliation, so as to secure measurable harmonious action, without, however, disregarding or repudiating any of the vital propositions to which the democratic party stood pledged. The conspicuous part taken in the accomplishment of these objects by our distinguished representative in congress, the Honorable Henry A. Barnhart, together with his steadfast adherence to the high purposes of his congressional career entitle him to the hearty commendation of his well-served constituency, and we believe that the best interests of the district would be subserved by his continuance in his present position.

The wise and able manner in which Governor Samuel M. Ralston has conducted his admirable administration merits and is hereby accorded the unstinted praise and commendation of this convention.

Large Quarters Are Needed as the Exhibits Are to be Numerous.
Plan Big Meeting.

A committee to secure a suitable room for the South Bend Poultry and Pet Stock show, to be held Feb. 2-7, inclusive, was appointed at a meeting of the directors of the association at Atty. F. C. Gabriel's office Monday night. A large room is needed for the exhibition this year as it is being planned upon a larger scale than has heretofore been attempted. It was announced that ten new cups in addition to the 50 already promised by local merchants, will be given. A public meeting will be held early in January when Frank E. Hering, a South Bend poultry fancier, will be the principal speaker. People interested in the exhibition are expected from Niles, Elkhart, Goshen and other nearby towns.

F. E. Hering will give a cup worth $25 as the general sweepstakes prize and Thomas Moss will be the donor of a cup worth $15 for the second best display. It is said that the prizes this year will be the most valuable that have ever been given for a similar purpose in the city.

FAREWELL PARTY HELD FOR ALBERT LEISURE

Departing Superintendent of Sunday School at First Presbyterian is Remembered.

At a party given in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church Monday evening by the men and boys of the Sunday school to the women and girls, as the culmination of a membership campaign, the teachers and officers of the Sunday school took occasion to present Albert Leisure, retiring superintendent with a farewell gift. In a brief address Rev. A. C. Lippincott, speaking in behalf of the teachers and officers, made him the gift of a handsome set of Riley's works bound in full morocco.

In accepting the gift, Mr. Leisure, who will leave Wednesday to make his home in Portland Ore., spoke in appreciation of the friendships which he has formed in South Bend, in the church particularly, and of the cooperation which has been given him by the Sunday school members and teachers.

The evening was spent delightfully with a series of games and the boys and girls of the Sunday school served dainty refreshments.
